Planning Your Organization's United Way Campaign

Seven Steps, Three Stages, One Goal

Pre Campaign

1. Analyze past campaign results
2. Secure top level support
3. Form an employee campaign
4. Determine your campaign goal

Pre Campaign

Pre Campaign: Step 1. Analyze past campaign results

Meet with your United Way volunteer or staff to plan your campaign. Review the level of participation, average gift, per capita giving and percent of potential achieved for the success of past campaign techniques.

Pre Campaign: Step 2. Secure top level support

There are some important things that your CEO can do to ensure your success:

- A. Personally select or appoint a senior level executive as Employee Campaign Chairman and/or Leadership Gifts Chairman to solicit senior management for Leadership gifts.
- B. Send a letter to management announcing your role as Employee Campaign Manager.
- C. Authorize payroll deduction, if not currently available.
- D. Approve continuous giving to maintain a base of support.
- E. Approve and support the goal.
- F. Approve company time for committee meetings, employee rallies, and one-to-one and group solicitations.
- G. Send a letter to all employees endorsing the campaign and encouraging their participation. A joint letter from CEO is recommended in organized companies.
- H. Appear at campaign meetings, rallies and special events to make personal endorsement.
- I. Send a thank-you letter to each employee.

Pre Campaign: Step 3. Form an employee campaign committee and plan the campaign

Don't try to do it all alone. Recruit committee representatives from all segments of the organization. Include people with special talents such as marketing and communications, personnel, data processing/payroll and past committee members. The committee is responsible for planning the campaign through establishing a campaign calendar, planning promotions and assisting with training programs.

Campaign

5. Solicitation
6. Conduct the Builder and Leadership Giving Program
7. Kick Off the campaign
8. Track your Progress / Report Results

Campaign

Campaign: Step 5. Solicitation and train Solicitors

Employees can be solicited one at a time or in group meetings. Group solicitation provides the opportunity to present a consistent message to all employees in a short period of time. In this method, up to 50 employees are gathered together for a presentation that might include:

- *Endorsements by management and labor (if applicable)
- *Testimonials by employees who have benefited from United Way services

*United Way presentation or agency speaker

*The United Way video presentation

*A question and answer session

*A pledge request – employees may be asked to pledge at meeting

This meeting generally lasts 30 minutes. A follow-up session should be scheduled for those who miss the meeting.

Train solicitors

Choose employees who are good givers — their commitment to United Way is already strong. Recruit one solicitor for every 10 to 15 employees, including representatives from each department. Team members should be educated in basic facts about United Way, able to answer questions and committed to serving. United Way staff are available to provide training, materials, films to assist in this process.

Post Campaign

9. Say Thank You
10. Start programs for new hires and retirees

Pre Campaign: Step 4. Determine your campaign goal

Financial goals are important because it is through an increase in dollars that United Way is able to provide more services to more people. To establish a challenging goal for the campaign, the campaign committee should evaluate last year's results, as well as the employee giving potential (amount which could be raised if each employee in the company gave according to an accepted giving standard). United Way provides a worksheet to assist in this process.

Planning Your Organization's United Way Campaign

Campaign: Step 6. Conduct the Leadership and Builder's Giving Campaign

Develop a strategic plan for identifying, cultivating and soliciting leadership donors. Ask your CEO to conduct management solicitation first. The Chief Executive should encourage visible support within each executive's department and urge participation in United Way's Leadership or Builder's Program.

Campaign: Step 7. Kick-Off the campaign

Take advantage of every opportunity to promote the campaign and create an enthusiastic atmosphere with the help of campaign tools listed below. Contact your United Way if you need additional information.

- A. Hold a kick-off event or rally to create awareness. The more spectacular and fun, the better.
- B. Show the United Way video.
- C. Invite United Way agency speakers. They can make agency services and the role United Way plays in supporting these programs come to life in a personal way.
- D. Hang posters and distribute brochures. Both provide information and say thanks to employees for their support.
- E. Utilize the company bulletin board or newsletter. If you have an organization newsletter, work with the editor to publicize United Way year-round. If your company does not have a formal newsletter, consider creating one for the campaign. United Way also offers text for e-mail messages that can be sent throughout the campaign. United Way provides a wide variety of materials to help in this process. Visit the "Campaign Toolkit" section of www.unitedwayscne.org
- F. Chart campaign progress using fill-in thermometers in high traffic areas to keep employees informed.

All successful campaigns include certain basic elements:

1. Send the calendar of events to management so they are informed and can release employees to attend meetings and tours.
3. Promote the use of payroll deduction.
4. Conduct rallies, group meetings and special events to build momentum. Campaigns should be short and intensive — strive for two weeks or less if possible.
5. Consider an incentive program to encourage participation. Some ideas include:
 - Meal prepared by a supervisor
 - Reserved parking space for a month
 - Low cost items contributed by the company
 - Tickets to an athletic, civic or arts event
 - Day off with pay
6. Consider inter-department competition.
7. Conduct follow-up solicitation — ensure every employee is contacted, and a gift card is returned.
8. Start a Loyal Contributor Initiative recognizing donors who have given for 10+ years. Wrap-up is a crucial element of the process.

Campaign: Step 8. Track Progress/Report results

Follow these steps after solicitation has ended.

- A. Make sure all pledge cards are returned.
- B. Complete the campaign report envelope.
- C. Give the completed report envelope to your United Way volunteer or staff, or deliver it to the United Way office. Be sure to include any cash or checks.

Post Campaign

Post Campaign: Step 9. Say thank you!

Never underestimate the importance of the "Thank You". Everyone needs to know that their effort is appreciated. Recognition can also help make next year's job easier. Send letters to your campaign team thanking them for their efforts. If someone has done a commendable job, send a letter to that person's boss. Suggested ways to say thank you are:

- A. Ask your CEO to send a letter to thank employees for their support and participation, post a thank-you from your CEO on company bulletin boards or enclose thank-you's in your organization's payroll. The thank-you should summarize campaign results and programs.
- B. Display Thermometer Posters with your final results in visible workplace locations.
- C. Recognize significant departmental achievement.
- D. Display your United Way Excellence Award.

Campaign: Step 10. Start a planned giving, new hires and a retirees program

Meet with your company's personnel department about implementing a new hires program and a retirees program. Being given the opportunity to contribute to United Way is an important part of the employment and post-employment processes. This year-round solicitation of new employees and retirees reduces campaign losses due to turnover.

Remember: Employees give based on the quality of information received, the effectiveness of the presentation and how personally they are asked.

During the next few weeks, you will be hearing a great deal about United Way services and programs. Our company recognizes the important and ongoing human services provided to people through United Way and the 20 agencies it funds. United Way represents the largest and most efficient system of providing people-to-people help. In support of this very important effort, you will be asked to attend a United Way presentation at which time you will be asked to pledge a contribution to United Way. Your contribution is a personal decision, but I hope that you will be generous, as our employees have been in the past. Through our payroll deduction plan, you have a convenient, easy and practical way to make your contribution. Sample CEO Letter #2

Dear Fellow Employees:

“LIVE UNITED” “ADVANCING THE COMMON GOOD”

“IMPROVING EDUCATION, FINANCIAL STABILITY & HEALTH”

In the weeks ahead, you will be hearing these phrases throughout our community — as people join together to help others through United Way of South Central Nebraska.

Human care services supported through United Way help not only the sick, disadvantaged or physically disabled, but also average families who face unexpected problems or require professional help to meet basic human needs. Anyone who has visited one of our United Way agencies can see this help first hand and be reassured his or her pledge is working to provide essential human services.

Human care services supported through United Way help not only the sick, disadvantaged or physically disabled, but also average families who face unexpected problems or require professional help to meet basic human needs. Anyone who has visited one of our United Way agencies can see this help first hand and be reassured his or her pledge is working to provide essential human services. Last year, your pledge to United Way helped support human care services and programs in our area. This year, in the face of even greater need, your support is even more critical. Giving to United Way is a symbol of your concern for your own needs and those of your friends, neighbors and fellow employees. By joining so many deserving agencies into one fundraising effort, each contributor is assured that he or she is doing the most good for the greatest number of people. What really sets United Way apart, however, is that local volunteers not only raise the money, but also determine how contributions will be used to the community's best advantage. It is an open, fair and equitable system, and we can all be proud of it. I hope you will take this opportunity to make your pledge.

Sincerely,
(CEO Name Here)

Sample New Hires Letter

Dear Employee:

[ORGANIZATION] is committed to improving the quality of life in the communities in which we operate; our company provides funds for this purpose through the corporate contributions program. We encourage the support and involvement of our employees in civic and charitable activities. Last year, our company gave more than [$ AMOUNT] in cash, materials and services to health and welfare agencies, educational institutions, civic groups, the arts and organizations involved in public issues and economic education. We give United Way top priority in communities where we operate, because we believe it is an excellent way to meet a variety of needs. In addition to the personal gifts of employees, [COMPANY] made contributions totaling [DOLLAR AMOUNT]. A number of our employees around the country are also involved as United Way volunteers. We invite you to join your many co-workers who support United Way. Information on the basic services United Way provides is attached. [NAME], our United Way representative, can answer any questions you might have. One easy way to give — preferred by many of us — is through payroll deduction. Through this method, you can authorize automatic deductions from your paycheck, either at each pay period or as a lump sum gift paid once a year. You can also make a contribution by check or cash. The attached pledge card allows you to choose either option. Please sign and return the card to [NAME], whether or not you decide to participate. Your decision will be kept strictly confidential. One reason south central Nebraska is such a nice place to live is that we have a strong, effective United Way. Thanks for helping to make it work.

Sincerely,
(CEO Name Here)

Sample Letter to Retirees

Dear Fellow Retiree:

As retired employees of [COMPANY], we are fortunate. Our careers have blessed us with the numerous rewards we enjoy today. This year, we can share our good fortune with others through United Way. What we give to United Way is only part of what it takes to provide health and human-care services to hundreds of people each day. Yet, to those in need, it makes all the difference in the world. Giving through United Way is the best way to help the most people. The needs of people in South Central Nebraska change all the time. United Way and supported organizations are working to discover and help fill these needs. One of the fastest growing segments of this nation's populations is its elderly. And many United Way supported organizations are in the forefront of the effort to address the needs of this special group. So you can see why our financial support is so important. But there's another way we can help — by giving our time. What better way to fill our leisure time than by caring for others. You get a lot in return. People helping people . . . United Way's campaign helps keep this spirit alive in our communities. Let's help United Way continue to work for all of us. Together, we do make the difference.

Sincerely,
(CEO Name Here)

5. Say thank you.

The advantages of giving through United Way rather than giving directly to individual agencies

If you give directly to individual agencies:	If you give to United Way:
Supports a single organization or service	Supports over 40 health and human service programs in south central Nebraska
Helps people needing that particular agency or service	Helps more people in more ways than any single organization
Allows donors to focus their gifts on a specific organization or service	Allows donors to focus their gifts on a specific organization or service through donor designation
Requires that each charity run its own fundraising campaign, taking people resources away from providing services to raise needed funds	One United fundraising campaign reduces costs to the agencies, so more people, time and resources are available to do the real work of the agency
Larger or more visible agencies have a greater ability to attract support than smaller, lesser-known community services doing valuable work in our community	United Way volunteers allocate donations to well-run agencies, ensuring support is distributed where it is most needed and providing the community with a balanced network of human services
Gifts might not be multiplied by leveraging government matching funds	Gifts to United Way are leveraged annually, multiplying the impact of each charitable dollar several times

Commonly Asked Questions With Answers

COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS WITH ANSWERS

Question 1. Why should I give to United Way?

A. Your gift makes vital services available to people in south Central Nebraska. United Way of South Central Nebraska serves Adams, Clay, Nuckolls and Webster counties. In order to ensure that your money is well-spent for the most important needs in our community — like hunger, drug abuse and specialized child care — knowledgeable volunteers who live and work in our area make decisions on where the money is spent to help the most people in need.

Question 2. How does United Way demonstrate its accountability?

A. With the help of volunteers, United Way of South Central Nebraska is able to keep administrative and fundraising costs among the lowest of any local, state or national charitable organization.

Question 3. Can I get help from a United Way agency? Can anyone?

A. Yes. The vital services provided by agencies are available to everyone without regard to economic status, race, or religion.

Question 4. Don't United Way agencies charge fees for their services?

A. The United Way of South Central Nebraska does not charge fees for services.

Question 5. Who decides who gets the United Way contributions?

A. Your friends and neighbors decide where your gifts to United Way are allocated. They visit agencies, review budgets and make sure every dollar goes where it is needed most. For those who want to give directly to a nonprofit organization, a donor designation option is available.

Question 6. Why not just give directly to the agencies?

A. There are several reasons why United Way is among the best ways to give to charity:

- Contributing through United Way guarantees agencies funds they can rely on and plan for, rather than depending on sporadic contributions.
- United Way's community-based oversight assures the charities you support through United Way adhere to sound fiscal policies and provide needed services.
- Giving through United Way reduces costly and time-consuming fundraising efforts for agencies, so their time can be spent helping others.

Question 7. How are United Way agencies accountable to United Way donors?

A. Every United Way agency meets these high standards to assure you of quality and efficiency:

- Recognized by the IRS as a nonprofit organization.
- Governed by a volunteer board of directors.
- Provides for a human care need.
- Audited regularly by an independent CPA firm.
- Submits monthly financial statements.
- Presents and defends their entire budget to a panel of community volunteers every year.
- Operates at a reasonable cost. Experienced community volunteers oversee the distributions to all agencies, review monthly financial reports and annual audits, conduct on-site visits and monitor programs to assure quality.

Commonly Asked Questions With Answers

Question 8. Do the agencies get government funding?

A. Many agencies receive government support, primarily through grants. In fact, United Way funding is often used by agencies to generate matching government funds with agency resources. However, shrinking government dollars available to agencies can threaten their financial stability, which means that privately funded institutions like United Way are more important than ever.

Question 9. Why does United Way support agencies affiliated with religious groups?

A. United Way supports agencies because they provide services to people who need them. The agencies affiliated with religious groups provide services to all people, regardless of religious affiliation. United Way of South Central Nebraska recognizes the rights of all people and does not, in any way, discriminate against any person or organization because of race, religion, gender, age, national origin, disability, socioeconomic status, political preference or lifestyle. In all of our funding policies and employment practices, we strive to be both fair and equitable.

Question 10. Doesn't charity begin at home?

A. Yes, it does. "Home" is not only the place where we reside – it is the community that surrounds us, and the people that make up that community. How big would you like your home to be? Working together works for the best of everyone.

Question 11. What if my spouse gives for me?

A. With so many working families, a large part of the workplace would be excluded if only one spouse gives. Family finances and giving are very personal matters. Each individual decides if he or she wants to help by being personally involved. More people can be helped if more people give.

Question 12. If I give to my church, why do I need to give to United Way?

A. Most people who give to charity also give to their church, synagogue or house of worship. Studies have shown that people who participate in faith based worship on a regular basis also give more to charity and are more likely to volunteer.

Question 13. How do I know my gift really makes a difference?

A. United Way volunteers focus on community needs and program results when making funding decisions. You can serve on a volunteer committee to decide how to best distribute the funds raised. An interesting thing happens when the people who give money are also in charge of determining the best funding uses for it – they work hard to make the right decisions!

Question 14. I know someone who asked for help and didn't get it – what's going on?

A. Needs always exceed the dollars available to meet them, so unfortunately, some people don't get the help they may desperately need. United Way agencies served more than 23,000 people in south central Nebraska last year. If more people give, waiting lists can be reduced and programs can be expanded to serve more people.

GIVE. ADVOCATE. VOLUNTEER.

Handling Objections & Answering Questions

There are objections and questions you may encounter as an Employee Campaign Leader, and they are great opportunities for providing information about United Way and your organization's United Way campaign. People are usually willing to participate in a campaign when they have the information they want, so please review this helpful information:

HANDLING OBJECTIONS TECHNIQUE: FEEL, FELT, FOUND

- 1) First empathize with them, let them know that you understand how they feel.
- 2) Then tell them about somebody who felt the same way.
- 3) Then tell them how that other person found that things were not so bad and that they could do what they were being asked or a portion thereof and it was actually a very good thing to do.

Examples:

"I can't afford to give!"

I LIVE UNITED DO YOU?

I understand how you feel. Many others have felt the same way. And what they have found is that....

- They could do something. It may not be as much as some others but, it is what they can do. Each decided they could do something and felt better for being able to do so.
- I know how you feel that you can't afford to give. I felt the same way when I first looked at it. But then I thought if it is tough on me, what must it be like for those that really need help! Then I found that I could do something and I enjoyed being able to join with all of the others that were helping.

How it works

By empathizing with how they feel, you are building harmony with them to create rapport. When you talk about how somebody else felt, you move the focus to a more objective place which they are likely to trust more. This also makes them a part of a group such that they do not feel alone. When they are attached to that group, then you move the whole group by telling how the person in the group changed their mind. The donor, being attached to the group, should change their mind at the same time.
